No 2,956—Eleventh Year — BUENOS AYRES, FRIDAY, MARCH 22, 1872. — Circulation, 3000.

MAUA BANK,
101—103 CALLE CANGALLO

The Offices of this Bank having been removed to the above spacious building, in order to suit the increasing flow of business, the public is informed that the following transactions are carried on in currency and specie in this Bank:—
First—Bills and obligations with good signatures are discounted on conventional terms.
Second—Money is advanced on mercantile and other securities approved of by the Manager.
Third—Accounts current are opened with Merchants or other parties who may prefer depositing endorsed and transferable securities, against which they may draw up to an amount previously convened under conditions established for such class of operations.
Fourth—Money is received in account current bearing interest from day of deposit, which is accumulated in favor of the parties every three months, the depositors being allowed to retire at any time, by means of cheques, part or the full amount at their wish, save when the quantity exceeds three hundred doubloons or one hundred thousand dollars currency, in which case forty-eight hours' previous notice is required to be given to the Treasury of the Bank.
Fifth—Bills or letters of credit are drawn and taken on Montevideo, Rosario, Sta Fé, Salto Oriental, Paysandu, Rio Janeiro, and other places in the Brazils, England and France, as also on other places, of which notice will be given hereafter.
Finally, the Bank undertakes and executes all legitimate transactions within the orbit of banking operations.
The establishment is always open from 10 a.m till 3 p.m.

J. LIVESEYS PATENT PERMANENT WAY MATERIAL.
For Main Lines, Light Railways, and Street Tramways.
J. Liveseys Patent Cast and Wrought Iron Sleepers, or Compound Sleepers of Wood and Iron, possess a degree of elasticity equal to any timber road, and are adapted for heavy and light railways or street tramways.
They are peculiarly simple in construction; the keys for tightening the rails are of iron, and are so arranged that no vibration can loosen them.
Nearly one thousand five hundred miles of railway have been laid with them, and this system has been almost universally adopted by railway companies.

It being an admitted fact, that "Money makes money," the object of LA BIENHECHORA could not be better, since it opens a vast Savings Bank for the surplus or savings of the Public so that, by the proper employment of these small gains, a moderate capital, or even annuity, may be secured in a short time. By this means a provident, though helpless, family can husband the small means, and, in the end, attain a competency.
It being proved that the accumulation of interest is the most powerful means of augmenting the capital, THE BIENHECHORA DEL PLATA—an Argentine Company, whose only investments are in the country—holds out to Subscribers greater advantages than any other Institution, by reason of all its dealings being in the River Plate, where are current as large interests as in any part of the world.
THE BIENHECHORA DEL PLATA receives Deposits of from Five Patacones per Annum up to any amount in Weekly, Monthly, or Yearly Instalments.

GOVERNMENT MORTGAGE BANK
Offices—111 CALLE SAN MARTIN.
This Bank will be open to the Public on all business days from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.
It advances on real estate to be repaid at long dates.
It pays Mortgage Certificates (Cedulas Hipotecarios) for the amount of the loan it advances, which bear an interest equal to that collected by the Bank.
The value of property offered in mortgage shall not be under two thousand patacons, nor the loan be less than 500 nuertes.
No loan can exceed half the value of the property mortgaged.
The Mortgagor shall bind himself to pay an annual sum so long as the mortgage lasts, said sum to represent the interest on the sum lent the amortization fund and commission to the Bank. This yearly sum shall be paid quarterly or half-yearly.

Series A—Quarterly.
Mortgage for 20 years 117 days, 8 per cent. interest, 2 per cent. amortization, and 1 per cent. commission.

Series B—Quarterly.
Morgage for 27 years 270 days; 8 per cent. interest, 1 per cent. amortization, and 1 per cent. commission.

Series C—Half-yearly.
Mortgage for 20 years 190 days; 8 per cent. interest, 2 per cent. amortization, and 1 per cent. commission.

Series D—Half-yearly.
Mortgage for 28 years 5 days: 8 per cent interest, 1 per cent. amortization, and 1 per cent commission.

Upon the full payment of the yearly sums stipulated in the Mortgage, both property and Mortgagor shall be freed from all further obligation.
The Mortgagor shall be at liberty to anticipate the payments and to discharge the mortgage, all or in part.
Applications for mortgages must be made in writing, specifying the property offered, accompanied by the title deeds, the receipts of the Contribucion Directa tax, and setting forth that the property is free from all incumbrance, or if not the incumbrance that exists thereon, and which is to be paid off by the mortgage. The Secretary of the bank will supply applicants with the forms necessary as also the tables for amortization.
Quarterly mortgagors shall pay from 8th to 15th of each January, April, July and October, and half yearly mortgagors shall pay between the 8th and 15th of each January and July.
With the amortization fund, mortgage certificates (cedulas) shall be redeemed at par by quarterly and half yearly drawings.
The mortgage Bank pays the interest on the quarterly cedulas or mortgage certificates between the 31st December and 6th January, the 31st March and 6th April, the 30th June and 6th July, the 30th September and 6th October every year, and on the half yearly cedulas from the 31st December to 6th January, and from 30th June to 6th July.
The Mortgage Bank can act between the capitalist and mortgagor, free of charge in the way of realizing the cedulas, and for this purpose will receive deposits without interest, which will receive a preference, and which sums will be deposited in the Provincial Bank.
On and after the 15th February 1872 the Mortgage Bank will be open to the public.

Dr. JACKSON'S BALSAMIC PECTORAL

Is a remedy long employed by the eminent Physician whose name it bears, and is carefully prepared from the original Recipe by the present Proprietors. It is composed entirely of vegetable products, and combines valuable expectorant qualities with those of a soothing curative nature. It has already won golden opinions in Europe by its wondrous effect in allaying pulmonary irritation, and in its promoting a healthy action of the membranes lining the throat and lungs, arresting the progress of disease and decay, and even, when used at an early stage, arresting that most terrible of chest diseases—Pulmonary Consumption.

The value of a remedy, within the reach of all, which by its therapeutic action controls and cures a vast bulk of the diseases to which mankind is liable, cannot be overrated. A brief notice accompanying each bottle, of the principal complaints for which it is specially applicable will be found useful; and, instead of presenting a host of testimonials of more or less value the Proprietor simply begs "One Trial," which will far better establish its reputation and gain the confidence of those who need the relief it affords than the repeated experiences of other sufferers, all of whom may be strangers to the patient

DEGENERATION of the BLOOD—In warm climates an undue amount of the vital principle escapes through the pores. This weakening drain cannot be suppressed without danger, but the blood thus impoverished by excessive evaporation should be recruited and revitalised by the frequent use of Bristol's Sarsaparilla. The effect of this agreeable vegetable specific is tonic and nutrimental, as well as depurative. It not only discharges from the circulation the morbid matter to which ulcerous and eruptive maladies owe their virulence, but prevents its accumulation, thereby keeping the current of life in a condition to resist all contaminating influence. Taken as a cordial it is the best safeguard against hysical prostration. cj—386

THE CORDOVESE LOAN.

Two millions sterling for Cordova! Yes, reader, that's the news by the last mail from the Interior. The Chambers were about to assemble as the post closed, and we read in the columns of our provincial contemporary that public opinion had unanimously pronounced in favor of the measure—both Government and people were of accord, that the very first subject to occupy the House should bd the new English loan. The salvation of the province depends upon the bill, and the future grandeur of the Cordoveses hangs upon the money. With an agreeable 'naivete' our colleague the Progreso points to the fact that all other topics should make way for the discussion of the loan, and the press of the province excludes every other matter from its columns. English gold seeks South American investment. Paraguay, emerging from its ashes after a disastrous war, has borrowed money in the London market on terms everyway liberal. The Banda Oriental, exhausted by long years of civil strife, seeks to recruit the Vril power of that truly elastic country by two foreign loans; and 'quien sabe' how many home loans, all are done, all are negotiated; and amidst the lurid blaze of a ceaseless civil war, English sovereigns keep flowing into the country, and high above the flames of conflagration is to be seen the phantasmagoric emblem of the new Montevidean sterling bonds. As for the Argentine Republic, two of her provinces have already set to the rest a noble example in the financial struggle. Buenos Ayres, dear dirty Buenos Ayres, has only to give a wink to Murrietta, and the business is done. Entre Rios follows suit, and as a matter of course an Entre Riano loan is floated on the instant. And why should Cordova, in such a glorious cause, hang fire? Cordova wants money, Cordova sighs to develop that latent industry and natural wealth, heir looms handed down from the Tucuman forefathers. Two millions sterling just at the present moment is worth all the exhibitions ever heard or spoken of since the days of the illustrious Prince Albert. Pity that President Sarmiento instead of getting up the exhibition had not raised a loan for Cordova—but better late than ever, and the exhibition, if it was an expensive toy, cost Cordova nothing. The exhibition has also brought Cordova more into notice; people who never before heard of the place can now pronounce its name better than the Attorney General can "carruage." Cordova is the 'alma mater' of the republic; she has her railway, her lime kilns, her tanneries, her wire railways, and soon will have her water works, gas works, and tramways. Why then should she not have her foreign loan? We fully coincide with our Cordovese colleague upon the advisability of the measure. Two millions sterling in Cordova would do more to wake the place up than all the schools that a Sarmiento could order or an Avellaneda direct. There is an agricultural industry in Cordova which is not to be found in Buenos Ayres or Entre Rios; the people are not mere goat herds, they till the soil, and Cordova flour feeds the Gaucho of Entre Rios and the 'puestero' of Buenos Ayres.

The old man has been in the market and borrowed thirty millions for the family account; the sons are now growing up, and can borrow for their own account. Cordova is the second son of the Republic, and by right should have precedence in the money market, and if the Cordoveses only know how to manage their financial affairs prudently they will get whatever money they require, and on far better terms than brother Entre Rios or first cousin Paraguay.

The first thing in the way of loan making is a good prospectus. There is no one in Cordoba able for the business; but there are competent men in Buenos Ayres, men who thoroughly know the London market, know what to say and what not to say—such as Riestra, Dominguez, Varela, Billinghurst, Madero, who are Argentine by birth and English by admiration, who could pen such a prospectus for the Cordoveses as would swim the loan at a figure that would even astonish Velez himself. Some such man must be employed for the business; for it is absurd to suppose that, with all her legal lore, Cordoba, shut up in the mountains of the Calera, can know the ins and outs of the London market as well as we folks in Buenos Ayres.

There is only one thing we have to note about this Cordoba loan business calculated to chill the enthusiasm of our adopted provincial countrymen—namely, that Sarsfield comes from that country, and this gentleman's name is now unfavorably known in the London market.

Entre Rios, with all its drawbacks, is far more Anglified than Cordoba. In parts of that province the whole country round is settled with English. Cordoba is behind Entre Rios in this regard. There are few English settlers in the province; there are no English races twice a year, as in Gualeguaychu; no British athletic sports club, no cricket club, no foreign club These are all trifles, we are to be told; but trifles make up the life of a nation as of an individual. Cordoba is far too old-fashioned to find much favor in the London money market, although we notice with pleasure that of late there is an improvement going on, and the Government is now about to start a foreign colony near Rio Cuarto; but colonies are tedious things, and take much time to develop. Money may be worth 12 per cent. per annum in London and the Bank rate higher than in B. Ayres to-day, if poor Cordoba has to wait for her colonies to grow up before she launches her loan.

The dilemma is a very serious one, but with a little wisdom may be avoided. An English paper once a week called, say, for instance, the Rio Cuarto Observer, and sent free to all the reading-rooms in the United Kingdom, would be a step in the right direction. Then a few of the abominable names to the streets of Cordoba might be changed: the main street would sound admirably as Picadilly, and the paseo could be called Plaza Victoria; that name has done more for Buenos Ayres in the borrowing line than the provincials are aware of. There is a mellifluous euphony in the names Queen Victoria and Plaza Victoria. Already Calle San Martin is known in London as Bond-street, and why not call one of the streets in Cordoba Baring-street or Murrietta-alley?

We throw out these suggestions in a friendly way. Many of our serious colleagues may regard them as a joke; but there is many a true word said in a joke, and nothing truer than that these old Argentine names have a harshness ill-suited to the requisite urbanity of a borrower. We look forward to the future issues of the Cordoba press, redolent with statistics. People in London really know nothing of the industrial resources of Cordoba. Ours be the task to enlighten them; and our up-river friends may rely upon our aiding them in every possible manner, provided that our subscribers in Cordoba meet with that respect and friendly esteem to which their national consanguinity with the lenders justly entitles them.

DEFEAT OF THE INDIANS.

GENERAL RIVAS'S DESPATCH.

THE CACIQUE COLIQUEO'S REPORT.

Blanca Grande, March 11th.

At 3 p.m. to-day I returned here with my forces, and now hand you a detailed report of the battle of San Carlos, on the 8th. inst. in which I defeated Calfucurá, near Pichi-Carhué.

When I first got news of the invasion I started from Azul, on the 6th. inst., with my escort and General Catriel's friendly Indians, and arrived here at midnight. Major Levalle's note apprised me that the invaders were 3,000 strong, which obliged me to wait till I could get in the outlying forces. Next morning (7th.), when about to march, a mutiny occurred among Catriel's people, and I suffered a delay in consequence. Col. Ocampo with the 2nd foot and 9th. horse captured the ringleaders and restored order, and Col. Leyria coming up soon after, I marched at once to meet the enemy.

After 3 leagues' galloping I heard cannon-shots in direction of San Carlos, which was Levalle's signal to me that the Indians were going off towards the Pampas, and induced me to alter my route and make for Cabeza del Tigre, where I knew the Indians would have to pass for water. But before I had gone 4 leagues in that direction a courier from Col. Boer overtook me, begging me to turn towards San Carlos as the Indians threatened that fort.

My horses would not permit this, as I told him in reply, and my guide losing his way I found myself, after much rambling, near Encadenadas lagoons, where I halted at 8 p.m., resolved to wait and give the enemy battle there. Nevertheless at 10 p.m. Lieut. Andrade arrived from San Carlos, saying that Col. Boer urgently begged my aid. In half-an-hour we were again in the saddle, and after meeting two more couriers from Boer, I arrived at 2 a.m. before San Carlos.

Having learned the position and strength of the enemy I resolved to rest my horses and wait for the reinforcement of Catriel's 300 Indians from Fort Lavalle, who luckily came up at sunrise. Just then the dust shewed the enemy to be moving, and Major Plaza also advised me. I disposed my forces in 3 parallel columns; the right under Catriel with 800 lances, the centre comprising 170 infantry of the 2nd batt. under Major Asies and 50 cavalry under Col. Palavecino; the left Col. Boer's brigade of 95 infantry 5th. batt., 140 Indians of Coliqueo's, 50 cavalry of the 5th. reg., 80 National Guards and 70 neighbors. The rear guard, under Col. Leyria comprised his own Nat. Guards and 40 friendly Indians, besides 30 Nat. Guards under Capt. Suarez.

Giving the word to 'march' I detached scouts to the Quenchuin, to observe the enemy, and they soon brought me word that Calfucurá was advancing rapidly against me, whereupon I ordered Col. Palavecino with his 50 cavalry and 200 friendly Indians to form a vanguard and only fall back in case the enemy was too strong for him. He had not gone half a league when he reported the enemy in great force, and I immediately despatched Col. Ocampo and Catriel to his support.

These movements were executed so rapidly that in a moment the combatants met, and both sides alighting from their horses a terrible hand-to-hand fight ensued, such as was never before seen in frontier warfare. But when my second battalion of infantry came up the Indian right broke and fled. Just then a body of 200 Indians outflanked Boer's cavalry and swept off the horses; whereupon I sent Leyria to Boer's relief; but the latter had already re-formed his men under cover of the 5th infantry, and made them dismount in expectation of another charge. At Leyria's approach the enemy fell back, and I then advanced with the Cacique Rojas and 40 Indians to try if Coloqueo's Indians would fight the enemy, for neither Boer nor Coliqueo could prevail on them; my efforts were equally fruitless, and a fresh charge took place.

The same occurred on my right, charges only made to kill time while the enemy was driving off the booty: then I ordered Ocampo, Leyria and Catriel to form in a column of which I took the command, and charged the enemy's centre, with signal success, breaking the Indians into two sections, and giving orders to all my forces to pursue the savages and recover the booty, while I went in person after a great body that was going southwards and chased it for 14 leagues.

My horses were beaten up, there was no water, the heat and dust were overpowering, so that I halted after taking from the enemy what booty they had. Moreover I had no guide, and knew nothing of the country around. Just then a bountiful shower of rain came on, which rescued us from thirst and danger. On my left I saw the enemy driving away a lot of mares, and sent Col. Leyria to rescue them, which he did after an obstinate struggle in which one of the Indians held him by his hair.

After a delay of two hours in this unknown region, vainly hoping some of my other divisions would come up, I gave the word to counter-march and on my arrival at Fort San Carlos found the other divisions there, since they had returned expecting to find me there also. Col. Boer was unable to follow me in the pursuit, not having any horses for his 5th. batt.

In the present invasion all the tribes of the desert have taken part, the Ranqueles, Renqué, Povan and Calfucurá's people, under the supreme command of the last mentioned. I consider this has been the most splendid triumph ever obtained over the Indians, for besides giving them a severe lesson we have recovered the immense booty they were taking away. We have rescued 30 Christian captives, 36 of Raniqueo's squaws and his friend Villalba, and 4 Chipitruz friendly Indians: we have also taken 4 prisoners. The recovered booty consists of seventy to eighty thousand horned cattle, fifteen to sixteen thousand mares and horses, and a large quantity of sheep. Moreover the country is strewn with other articles of plunder.

I can positively assure the Government that as far as my troops could reach the Indians were prevented from carrying off cattle, and so the rescued captives attest.

The Indians left on the field 200 slain, including Caltucurá's brother-in-law and some minor caciques. Among the wounded, as we learn from the captives, is a son of the old chief.

My loss consists of 4 killed and 2 wounded, among the latter Captain Manuel Lopez, aide-de-camp to Col. Ocampos. The friendly Indians had 30 killed and 14 wounded, among the latter two minor caciques.

I have to recommend the gallant conduct of all the commanders and officers, especially of my own division, knowing that Col. Boer will do the same for his. I have to make special mention of Colonels Ocampo, Palavecino and Leyria; Majors Plaza, Sosa, Rebucion, Baez and Moritan; Captains Michenver, Solano, and Marmol; Lieutenant Farias and others, not forgetting the valiant Cacique Catriel, the interpreter Avendaño, and the neighbor Juan Lopez who came as a volunteer, bringing 40 of his own horses.

I may mention that Catriel's bravery was conspicuous and to show his firmness he asked me for an escort of soldiers, to fire on his own people if they attempted to turn, which I sent him under Major Rebucion, the interpreter at the same time crying out what these men were intended for.

I beg to offer to the Government my congratulations for this happy event which has once and perhaps, for ever broken the power of Calfucurá, so long the terror of our pontiers.

IGNACIO RIVAS,
Commander-in-chief of the South frontier.

The following is the letter of the Indian Chief called Collique dated the 4th the Inst:—

Tapera de Diaz.
March 14th.

On the 6th inst. I received orders to march for Fort Gen. Paz, and accordingly started same day at noon, at full gallop, with 180 lances, reaching the fort at 8 p. m. Next morning before dawn we started for San Carlos and reached there by noon. Next day seeing the Indians driving away cattle we went to encounter them, but although we charged them 3 times we were routed, and forced to dismount, when the enemy fled. My loss was 5 killed and 7 wounded, but the enemy had several wounded. In a second encounter I lost 3 more of my men. Leaving Simon to mind the wounded, I got through the midst of the enemy with 50 warriors and joined Rivas and Catriel. In pursuing the enemy I recovered some booty besides a prisoner and a girl 7 years old, and killed 8 Indians; but my horses got tired and the enemy was around me on all sides, so I threw myself into Fort Rifles under cover of a heavy shower, for Rivas and Boer had gone back to San Carlos, and Divine Providence gave me a special escape from the enemy. Next day Simon sent a partida to look for me, thinking the enemy had killed us all. The warriors of Chiripu's and Manuel Grande's people fought bravely, losing two killed and one wounded as a proof of their fidelity. Thank God, myself, my brothers and capitanegos are unhurt, for Rivas and Catriel came up in time to rescue us, otherwise not one of us should have survived for the Malones fought dreadfully.

JUSTO COLIQUEO.

LONDON GOSSIP.

(Our own Correspondent.)

The Campana railway is ready for launching, and may slide gracefully off the stocks or into the stock market about the middle of the month. The London capitalists have been rather shy of River Plate undertakings since the unfortunate repudiation of Great Central Railway guarantee by the Government.

There is now a little better feeling owing to statements appearing in the Times to the effect that the Eastern Railway had succeeded in arranging with the Government, and that Central Argentines were at par in the B. Ayres market.

The prospectus of the Rosario and Cordova Water Works Company, as issued last month under the auspices of Mr. Spencer Herepath, assumes that half the present population of the two cities use the water supplied by the company: it is calculated that at a penny per head per day the result would leave over expenses a net return of 15 per cent. on the capital.

Mr. Newman in his report in reference to the proposed water works alludes to the unwholesome and costly native custom of storing water in algibes, and says that from his experience in Montevideo since the water works have been established in that city, whenever new houses are erected the owners immediately apply to have the water laid on, saving themselves the expense of constructing algibes and as affording an inducement to tenants. "At Montevideo," he says, "where we only inaugurated the works at the end of July last, we had 500 houses laid in within two months, and had 500 additional applications which we were obliged temporarily to decline, having used up all the lead pipes in the city, although we receive a monthly supply of 5,000 feet from England. The proprietors of the Montevideo works are so convinced that their undertaking will yield them a handsome return on their outlay that they have decided to retain the property in their own hands in preference to forming a company. I am informed that the Buenos Ayres water works, which are government property, are paying 12¾ per cent."

An intelligent friend who knows your country well has drawn my attention to the scarcity of horses in England. This arises from two obvious causes, whatever others may exist—namely, the increased consumption in the traffic of the cities, and the relative falling off in production in the country districts, owing to the extensive farming system, one of the merits of which is economy in men and beasts. For a long time past you will have read that we experienced difficulties in mounting our cavalry. Should this scarcity continue, it may be more worth while to export horses than cattle from Buenos Ayres, as the former require little expense on arrival, and can be sold at once and employed. The only question is, are you doing anything to improve the native breed of horses, and increase their size?

Regarding the River Plate Meat-Pressure Company, which is sure to command attention in Buenos Ayres, I may tell you its origin was as follows: A short time ago the Australian merchants were glorifying themselves and their beef in presence of a few R. Plate gentlemen. The latter listened attentively, till it began to dawn on their minds that they had heard all that learning before; and said they to themselves and to one another, and finally to the Australian merchants. "If these things can be done in Australia, why not in the River Plate, which is much nearer the great consuming markets?" There is no occasion, they thought, to confine attention to any particular process of meat-preserving, but to employ the best methods, pay for them, and set to work at once. I am not in a position to say that they will set to work at once; but I know that it is more than probable, since this powerful company is formed of gentlemen in the Australian as well as the R. Plate trade, comprising some familiar and respected names.

Verdi's new opera, 'Aida,' has been produced at Cairo with a magnificence and a historical and pictorial accuracy unrivalled even in Paris. The ancient Egyptian scenery and costumes proper to the subject of the opera are described as exquisite; and the audience shouted their applause, forgetting, in their enjoyment of the scenic display, both author and composer. The music, from the few criticisms published, I take to be in the style of 'Don Carlos,' but more Verdi-like and popular. As in the 'Vepres,' so in 'Aida' the author, I fear, has subdued his own spontaneity for the sake of the 'couleur local,' in which he seldom thoroughly succeeds, though he succeds better than other Italian masters.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The French mail steamer Poiton will leave port this afternoon for Marseilles. Letters and newspapers can be posted at the Capitania up to two o'clock.

The news from the Tigre yesterday morning was of a rather distressing description. The fluidity has been so terrific in that part of the world that the trains on the Northern Railway could not run on Wednesday, the neighbourhood between the Tigre and San Fernando being one vast lake. On Tuesday night the water rose to such a height that boats and carts were brought into requisition to save persons and property. A friend of ours left town on Monday to enjoy a few days picnicing and fresh air; fresh water must do him instead. He wired us yesterday, 'I'm afloat,' so we have every hope that he survives. Some of the Tigre islands have disappeared completely, others partially. In the South there have been some losses of sheep from the floods; in fact from all parts of the province we hear of the effects of the rain. Poor Buenos Ayres will take six weeks to dry after such a pluvious visitation.

A large holder of landed property and live stock in the Banda Oriental who is over here on a visit, informed us yesterday that things are far worse in that unhappy republic than is imagined on this side of the river: he denounces the Red troops as the worse of the two. They pick the choicest English stock of cattle and sheep, even when the owners offer them everything but the valuable animals they wish to save. The war is no war at all, but an organized system of plunder, so demoralized is everything in the camp now that no native can obtain employment on any estancia, even from Orientals, such is the dread of their being forced into either army. The losses to foreign settlers are greater than any one knows. On the D—— estancia alone £6,000 worth of cattle has been stolen within the past year. All respectable men now cry out for intervention, as there is nothing for it but utter ruin to the whole country, or foreign armed interference.

Yesterday there was an ugly rumour afloat respecting the number of captives carried off by the Indians from 25 de Mayo. The unfortunates are now said to amount to 500, but we take this to be an exaggeration. The official reports are very dim on this point, and Calfucura was too wily to let the cat out of the bag in the R. P. Mâlon.

"A movement has been set on foot for the purpose of restoring the Strasburg Library, and an Honorary Committee formed in U. States under the authority of Count Bismarck-Bohlen, the German Governor of Alsace, to collect such offerings as may be made in America toward the restoration of not only one of the oldest libraries in Europe, but also one of the most ancient cradles of literature. Authors are invited to present copies of their works, and publishers to send selections from their lists. Reports of learned, authors reprints of publishing societies, and duplicates from libraries, will be welcome.

"From an article in the New Orleans Picayune it appears that one of the most barbarous features of the old English common law prevails in Louisiana. At the recent session of the District Court in Winnsborough, Franklin parish, a negro was on trial for beating his wife, whether brutally or not does not appear. His lawyer pleaded the sanction of the common law, which in criminal trials rules that State, permitting a husband to administer moderate chastisement to a wife. The Franklin Sun, from which the facts of the case are gathered, reports the Judge as fully sustaining the plea. He said that our laws were all statutary; that the common law was in 1805 made the law to govern criminal proceedings in this State, and that in the recent revision of the laws the common law of "1805" was re-enacted to govern said proceedings. He admitted that the old common law gave the right of moderately chastising the wife to the husband. He loathed the idea of the thing, and said that this was the first and he hoped would be the last case of the kind that ever came before him. The Picayune calls upon the Legislature to free the criminal law of the State of "the barbarous feature."

"The historical four and twenty blackbirds who were baked in a pie, have been quite thrown into the shade by one hundred chickens who furnished the interior of a gigantic pasty baked recently in Bridgeport, Conn., for the Fair of St. John's Church. It took four strong men to carry this monster into the hall; and it will take a great many more strong men and women and children to eat and digest it. How it was carved we are not told, but the operation was probably performed by some kind of machinery. These gigantic dishes have their value, since they show what ambitious cooks can do if they try; but most people, if asked to dinner, would prefer a pie of less discouraging proportions, to which they could do justice without committing suicide."

A correspondent in Berlin writes:—"If there is one praiseworthy quality distinguishing Prince Bismarck from other 'great men', it is that he strongly discountenances the worship of himself as a 'great man'. To whatever height he may rise in his official capacity, in his social character he likes to step down from his elevated pedestal and to speak and act among others like an ordinary man. He is not chary of autographs when they are to be given in the way of letters; but when they are demanded as autographs he knows how to refuse so small a gift as flatly as he did more valuable concessions to M. Thiers and M. Favre. The new German ambassador at Mexico, Count Enzenberg, is an avowed autograph hunter, and it seems he trusted on the strength of his official position to elicit a contribution to his collection from the Minister whom the Germans consider 'the greatest man of this century'. On presenting his bulky album, he was disappointed to meet with a refusal, for the Prince, after looking carelessly over some of the handwritings, returned the volume without a word, to the great confusion of Count Enzenberg. The Chancellor's secretary, M. Bucher, however, engaged to obtain the valued prize in a private interview. Prince Bismarck inscribed his name on the page already graced by the autographs of MM. Guizot and Thiers".

Bohemia is "en deuil, an desespoir." The end of the Buenos Ayres "half world" is at hand. The Alcazar and all its belongings are be sold, consigned to oblivion and "old clo" dealers, in fact, effaced and Nemesis has chosen A. Bulrich for her emissary. The sacrifice comes off to-morrow. We doubt if we shall be able to muster courage to attend it. We remember the Alcazar in the palmy days, when it was deemed important enough for ecclesiastical censure; when silly saints, sanctimonious hypocrites and fair and fatish matr all the letters would have been lost to a certainty—so let him go.

The enormous export of stolen cattle into Chile from this republic has at last attracted the attention of the Chilian authorities, and they lately notified the National Government that the illicit trade was greatly on the increase. The National Government immediately notified the Provincial, which in turn passed a notification to the Sociedad Rural, which passed it on to the Jueces de Paz, who in their turn notified the Alcaldes, who informed the sheepfarmers, and in their turn the latter notified the STANDARD. We had no idea of remaining with the ball, so kicked it into the front patio, to Bullrich, who, having nobody to notify or 'knock down' at the moment, declared that the administration of affairs was not only 'going,' but 'gone' to the d——l, that the whole thing was a 'sell,' and he would at once adopt the desperate alternative of 'applying to the authorities' on the subject.

The members of the Volunteer Fire Brigade will meet this evening at 8 o'clock, at Messrs. Mitre y Vedia & Co.'s. in Calle Cangallo, to elect the officers of the corps.

Progress breeds want, and what are wanted just now are iron doors, iron safes, and iron rooms; all are rising to a fabulous price in consequence of the enormous quantities of gold coin now in this city, while still larger amounts are expected for months to come. Not a bank in town will be able to hold another patacon when the coin expected by the Boyne is housed, and strong-rooms will have to be built. The finest iron door in town is that between our first and second patios. We bought it at the bank auction, to protect the treasures hidden in our back patio, not a doubloon of which has ever fallen into the hands of robbers—thanks to the door, and the uncertainty as to the corner in which the treasure is hidden. To convenience the financial public, we are open to an offer for the door.

No steamer from Montevideo yesterday in consequence of the weather. A boat came in from Concordia, but that's nothing. Who could expect anything stirring from that quarter on a wet day! No news is often good news, but in the afternoon Mr. Standby O'Gorman wired us a piece of detestably bad news from the Mount, to the effect that yellow fever has broken out in the hospital there. We hope against hope, that this news is capable of modification, while we are in justice bound to aver that Mr. O'G. has never yet been caught tripping. Quarantine, and more quarantine, is the only preventive on this side.

A pleasant announcement appeared in the native papers yesterday to the effect that 40 prisoners whose term had expired were let out of the Policia on the previous day!!

The brutal diversion of bull-fighting lately introduced in Rosario has led to a very natural result—murder. On Sunday last, after the carrera, a row ensued amongst the 'toreros,' one being killed and some others wounded.

The Monitor de la Campaña has taken up a rather serious subject in a very serious manner. It questions the advantage of sending the children of campmen to this city to be educated, and asserts that those boys who are educated in town (with some few exceptions) return to the paternal roof with materialism for a religion, love of luxury as civilization, supineness for law, and crammed with pedantry instead of science. Hard words, my masters.

The Santa Fe papers complain bitterly of the bear-garden proceedings of the Convention for the Reform of the Constitution of that province. Daggers and revolvers have not as yet been used to give piquancy to the debates, but if that species of language used in Billingsgate Market could kill, there would not be a Convencional alive in Santa Fe to-day.

The Treasurer of the Municipality was again asked on Wednesday to say how much R. M. there was in the cash box. His reply, '$800 mjc.' señores' 'spread dismay around,' like the fatal bullet at Trafalgar. Eight hundred mjc.!! Up the financial spout again, though only last week the bank advanced five millions on that incontrovertible security, City Debentures!! Chronic impecuniosity is the canker preying on the Municipal vitals. There is not the slightest use in pouring cash into the Municipal coffers, they are apparently bottomless pits for paper dollars.

A thunderbolt fell in Flores on Tuesday night, but happily did no further injury than knock down a dead wall.

Every country in the world worth the name is fostering Immigration but the 'flower of the earth,' in which we have the inestimabe privilege of living. We learn from Canada that the Ontario Legislature has lately voted a sum of 80,000 dollars for colonization purposes, and has taken other steps to get the English Emigration Societies on its side.

In reference to Mr. Chapeauronges' map of Santa Fe, on view at Fusoni's, we beg to say that subscriptions for same will be received at this office. Any parties whose lands may have been wrongly marked are requested to inform the author, and the error will be corrected.

We received the Natal Mercury of December 21st yesterday. It states that the Diamon Fields are more prolific than ever, but the gold fields in the Transvaal Republic are poor, only 3 lbs weight of gold being received in six weeks. Over 40 waggons often pass daily through Maritzburg for the Diamond Fields.

In Dr. Cueto's court there are seven murder cases to be tried, and several for stabbing and wounding.

Ware hawk!! A colleague proposes that all future executions for murder should take place in the Tigre Islands or some other secluded place, as it is demoralizing to allow the 'plebs' to witness such spectacles. What is daily passing in town and camp proves the touching confidence the public have in the authorities of all grades, and anyone who might illnaturredly suggest that an execution at the Tigre would be no execution at all, would at once be stigmatized as a fool—though fools occasionally speak highly unpleasant truths.

The last number of El Plata Ilustrada contains a portrait and biographical sketch of Mr. George Temperley. This gentleman is so widely known in the Plate that any words we could add to the complimentary remarks of our contemporary are perhaps superfluous. Mr. Temperley is one of our leading representative men and an example to younger ones of how to achieve brilliant success by ability, untiring industry, and high character.

The Government has paid the sum of 2,255 pats. to the authorities at Salta for distribution amongst the sufferers by the Oran earthquake.

ADVENTURES AT THE TIGRE.

(Communicated.)

Having left town last Friday for a few days of quiet amusement at the Tigre we were weather-bound by the recent heavy rains and floods, which surpassed even the recollection of the oldest boatman. Suffice it to say that Conchas, Tigre and the railway were under water; the baker made his rounds in a boat, but neither my friend nor myself cared much for such amusement in the rain. Whenever a train came in from Buenos Ayres some people made an effort to get the latest news: The train had great difficulty in getting from San Fernando to the Tigre the water being almost high enough to put out the fires of the locomotive.

At last this morning we made a bolt for town, the rain having abated sufficiently to allow us to escape from the dismal two-story wooden hut where we had been nearly a week confined. Nothing can give you an idea of the strange aspect of the Tigre village under water. We pulled up the main street in a boat: on both sides were the amphibious inhabitants trying to pursue their domestic avocations under difficulties.

If the rain stops and the waters subside the amount of damage as yet done will be trifling; but if the flood increases the villagers will stand in need of prompt relief, and vessels should be sent to pick them off the trees and house tops.

THE ALABAMA CLAIMS.

(From the "Daily News.")

Senator Hamlin is reported to have declared in the Congress at Washington that in the present circumstances of England and America silence is the wisest policy. So far as the public men of either nation may feel a temptation to excite the susceptibility of the public, and to awaken those passions which blind the eyes of the mind, the advice may be commended to them as sound. We have, however, to explain our views in a situation in which we have been placed suddenly and against our will; whereas the Government of the States, in the very act of placing us there, has proclaimed its case to the world. We believe that it is the universal desire of our people that not a word should be said at the crisis inconsistent with the feelings with which the Washington Treaty was signed.

After a disappointment which is so grave and profound, our desire is exactly what it was last May, that some means may be found for settling in an amicable manner the differences which have so long troubled the relations of the two countries. We gather from the indications of the American press, and from the declarations attributed to the Government of the United States, that the Alabama claims cannot now be disposed of in the way of arbitration promised by the Treaty of Washington. At present no announcement that can be regarded as final has been made to this effect, and until the fact has been formally declared it will be a duty to decline to accept it; but we cannot shut our eyes to the manifest progress of events.

In a situation which supplies abundant elements of regret, we may dwell with great satisfaction on the unanimity with which the nation sustains the Government in the resolution it has proclaimed. In the progress of the negotiations last year there may be much to censure; Englishmen, at any rate, may blame the looseness which their representatives permitted to characterize expressions that were the essence of a solemn treaty.

But as to the ground substantially taken by our Government, in its resolution not to accept an arbitration on the question of indirect losses, we are all of one mind and heart. We refused to discuss those claims in our direct negotiations with the United States; we never consented to refer them to arbitration, and we cannot do so. Our American friends are fond of saying that we cannot claim to frame their Case as well as our own. We make no pretensions of that kind; they must fashion their case according to their own judgment. But we never consented to an unconditional arbitration upon any and every kind of claim; and we only exercise our undoubted right when we now say, as we always meant to say, and as we believed we were understood last year as saying, that we consent to refer only the direct losses caused by the Alabama and her sister cruisers to the Geneva Tribunal. When the American 'Case' first came before the public, we expressed not only the regret, but the surprise, with which we found in it the most elaborate indictment which could be drawn against a nation that had just before given the United States a signal proof of its friendly feeling. The attitude of our representatives at Washington last week was frank and magnanimous. We made concessions with a freedom and boldness which only a people strong in their right could make.

Our reward is to find in the American Case, not that business-like statement of claims which we, in our simplicity, had imagined was all that remained to the other party, but a long and passionate pleading, such as the American Government might have put forward under the excitement of the war. Chapter after chapter of the Case is devoted to discussions of the presumed motives of our public men; and facts are accumulated to show the "unfriendly feeling of her Majesty's Government." The speeches of Lord Russell, Lord Palmerston, and Mr. Gladstone are ransacked for proofs of the malevolent sentiments of our statesmen. We will not inquire whether this was the way which commended itself to the statesmen of America as most likely to lead to the restoration of the desired harmony between the two countries, but we will ask why, when those statesmen undertook to place a faithful record of the opinions of the British Government before the Arbitrators, they passed entirely over the speeches of Sir George Lewis, the Duke of Argyll, Mr. Charles Villiers, and Mr. Milner Gibson? Nor ought another allegation of the American "Case" to pass unnoticed. Near the close of that document it is stated that the United States Government came out of their sanguinary contest "without serious complaints against any nation except Great Britain."

Heaven forbid that we should follow the example of the writers of this "Case" in searching for evidence of animus; but if we did, this assertion would supply it. Every one who reads this extraordinary statement will think at once of the policy pursued by the Emperor of the French, and particularly of the Mexican expedition, undertaken with the proclaimed object of setting bounds to the progress of the United States, and conducted so as to be a constant danger to the cause of the Union. Yet the writer of the "Case" takes especial care to extol the fidelity of the French Emperor, and to contrast it with the conduct of our own Government. We do not believe that in so doing he will be better sustained by the moral judgment of the American people than he is by the recollections of Englishmen.

We find no satisfaction in thus calling attention to these features of the American Case, but we refer to them as showing the position which the American Government voluntarily took up in view of the reference to arbitration. If we cannot have the friendly settlement of which we have been encouraged to dream, we must seek for a lower degree of satisfaction wherever we can find it, and certainly a perusal of this "Case" tends to diminish our sense of what we have lost. For if the American Government adopts language such as we have quoted when it is addressing itself to the friendly settlement of a dispute, its notion of friendship can hardly be that which we derived from the proceedings and declarations which attended and followed the conclusion of the Treaty of Washington.

It is not entirely, or even chiefly, for our own sakes, that we regret this return to the language of passion and susceptibility after the interchange of the most amicable sentiments. We are made painfully aware that the world has not that guarantee of order and progress which it had hoped to find in the character of the Government of one of its greatest commonwealths. The course before us is, however, clear. We should do our duty, trusting that whatever clouds may for the moment darken the sky will be dispersed as the truth becomes known. The American people have often proved themselves wiser than their leaders; and although they may at first be disposed to accept the position of their Government on the subject of these Claims, we may hope that as the facts become known they will also do justice to our position, and believe that we have never desired to withhold from them any satisfaction that could in any wise be reconciled with our own honour.

ON 'CHANGE.

	March 21st, 1872.
Ounces	400
Soys	122½
Pats	25
National Bonds	74¼

There was a notable rise in the Bond Market to-day, caused by the 'King' calling for all the bonds deliverable to him at the end of the month, deducting the interest for the days yet to run, at 6 per cent. Of the 150,000 bonds which he has to receive, only 100,000 were delivered, which shows that many of the sellers have not the bonds as yet to deliver. For cash there was nothing done. For Saturday 50,000, at 74¼. For March 31st, 95,000, at 74¼. April 30th, 30,000, at 74¼. At after hours sellers asked 75 for the end of the month. In Cedulas Hipotecarias 1200, Series A, at 95.

Exchange ruled to-day at 50¾, 51, and 51¼. On Antwerp, at 5.45; on Havre, nothing: on Rio 33,300; on Montevideo, nothing done, no drawers.

The telegram from Montevideo to-day gave the following 2,000 hides at 76, Cardiff Britania, Saturno and Uruguay postponed sailing till to-morrow. In produce nothing done until arrival of French packet. Paper 47. Extraordinary Debt 42, Union Tramway 88, Exchange 53–53¼, Fomento down.

The telegram announcing a case of yellow fever in the Hospital in Montevideo caused much attention; unfortunately some of the houses here received similar intelligence. It appears however to be an isolated case, possibly a sailor. Numerous parties at once telegraphed to the Mount to know what truth there is in the news, which, we regret to say, is beyond all question.

There were no sales of Municipal Bonds to-day. We learn with much pleasure that the board owes nothing, and has at its disposal 14 millions bonds. The Municipality does not require the tramway companies to alloquinar the streets, but to keep the pavement in order; and is now repairing the streets for the account of the tramways, all having agreed to pay, save the City Company.

A large sale of 15,000 arrobes was announced at 8500 m/c. A portion of this splendid lot is from Mr. Gahan's estancia, Merlo. Mr. Bunge, purchaser; Messrs. Kenny Bros., the brokers.

Money ruled to-day easier than ever, and first class city bills are now done under the Bank rate. Most of the discount brokers now promenade the Bolsa with 'Alabama' countenances, owing to the great scarcity of bills.

Mr. Donovan reports having sold last week 8000 arrobes at 90 to 105, and yesterday 1500 at 100. Much of this wool was bought outside at 70 and placed in market at 75, leaving a splendid profit.

Notwithstanding the rain, there were large purchases in both plazas to-day, chiefly by exporters to make up cargo.

Sheepskins are fairly gone to the skies. A lot of pelados with deseehos, 90 offered, worth three months ago 30. Cueros de consumo, 150 to 160. Full wooled skins, whatever price owners think proper to ask.

Wheat, good, at 140 and steady. Maize 105 to 120, falling. Sheep not to be had at 35 al corte; farmers ask more, and flocks that two years ago could be bought at $10 al corte are to-day worth $40 m/c.

Mr. James Bell, formerly an almacenero in this market, and of late years an estanciero in the North, leaves with his family for Europe in Araucanía. The Chimborazo is due from Liverpool on Sunday. Mails for Europe per Araucanía close on 26th, and on 23rd for Pacific per Chimborazo.

Mr. Lloyd, of London, was welcomed on 'Change to-day. He has arrived out per Neva, and fully confirms the great rise in Europe in every description of railway iron.

The Mutual Gas Co. now having two thirds of its capital subscribed, the first general meeting will take place about the 6th April. The Company promises great success, as most of the principal consumers of gas have taken shares including the Theatres, Cafes &c.

The sale of an estancia in the partido del Pilar, formerly known as Barton's estancia, the property of Dn. Agustin Silveira was announced yesterday for $145,000 m/c Quiroga purchaser. The property comprises 175 squares, houses carrales &c.

The French packet was looked for to-day, she will now be in quarantine the whole time she is in this port which is an immense inconvenience, the present rule is 8 days here or at Montevideo on all vessels touching at Pernambuco.

The Custom-house Collector calls for the consignee of 231 boxes of kerosene ex J.A. Dassell to despatch same within 15 days from the 8th inst.

The court in Chamber has declared a bank receipt for 8fts. 14,580 pats. of the River Plate Bank, given to Maria Jaupon to be null and void, the number of the receipt is 3,619 and dated 19 Jan. 18..).

All parties having claims against the municipality are called upon by the secretary to present same without delay, also all the owners of kiosks and placard boards are summoned to appear and show their licences.

The National Government has just sent to Mr. Henry Cammann of Hamburg 8fts. 3,000 pats to pay for a chemical battery or apparatus for the Uruguay college according to the instruction of Dr. Seeckamp.

A meeting to the creditors of J. Crovetto and Sons is called for to-morrow (Friday) at 1 o'clock, a meeting of the creditors of J. St. Hilaire is called for the same day 3 o'clock.

On next Wednesday Bullrich will sell by auction all that remains of the stock of the once far famed Stearine candle factory Calle Larga Barracas, galpones, machinery &c. all go under the hammer.

On Saturday the whole stock etc. of the Alcazar, Calle Victoria, will also be sold by Bullrich. Some few years ago, when the concern was first started, the shares were at an enormous premium, but the place has fallen away, and bad management etc. has brought about its final wind-up.

The following items may interest our commercial readers. They represent the public debts due to the Provincial Bank on the 1st inst.—

Provincial do do do Jan, 1870	42,000
Do do do Oct. 1870	764,556
Do do do March, 1871	398,000

Baradero do	282,000
Chascomus do	165,780
Tandil do	200,360
25 de Mayo	124,906
Capilla del Señor	6,900
Pagares for public lands	70,000

The foregoing figures are from the last official statements of the Bank, and serve to show pretty clearly one branch of the business of the Bank. To the above we might add bills running due to the Bank on same date, 32,198,727 pats., which include paper money acc.

The schooner Joven Violantina went down on Tuesday in the storm in port. She had a cargo of sugar, wines and cañas on board; all gone to the bottom.

The Chamber of Deputies is convened for to-morrow (Friday). The following important measures are the order of the day—

Construction of new prison.
Budget for 1872.
Western Railway budget, 1872.
Water Works do.
Provincial Bank do.
Orphan Asylum do.
Municipality do.
New port bill for B. Ayres.
New Emission, 40 million Prov. Bonds.
Subdivision of Partidos, Bahia Blanca and Tres Arroyos.
Construction of Lazzareto in this city.

It appears that the bill which presses most is the new prison. The Bank has agreed to advance the funds; the plans &c. are made, and nothing is now required but to pass the law. If however within two months the legislators get through the above bill of fare the public will have reason to rejoice.

Advices from Cordova announce a bill before the Legislature for an English loan of two millions sterling. Also a new private bank to be started, the applicant for the charter boasting of a cash capital of 700,000 pats.

Samples of some splendid Lincoln wool were sent to our office. The wool comes from the well known estancia of Mr. Ninian Johnston, and the probable price spoken of for this choice lot is 200 m/c. per arroba. Messrs. Peyredieu and Bradley have the sale of this wool.

Messrs. Woodgate Brothers report that in consequence of the severity of the weather the Bonita has postponed her sailing till Sunday the 24th inst.

In commercial circles no importance whatever is attached to the articles in the native papers respecting an impending war with Brazil. There is not one single word of truth in the statement so far as this country is concerned, and as for Brazil sending 600,000 pats. to Europe for arms, the writer of such news must not have visited the arsenal in Rio—Brazil could sell arms to Europe, such is the enormous supply she has on hand.

The National treasury has paid Messrs. Malbran for proveeduria account 24,572 pats., S. Allende do 8,795$f., D. Luna do 4,853$f., Lanuz Bros. do 6,918$f., M. Goni for horses 2,800$., to Baring Brothers for service of English loan 1868 3,350$f., and to the Maua Bank for service of the Brazilian loans 1851-1857 40,597 pats. The National Treasury on the 14th inst. received the following—

Custom House,	Buenos Ayres..	56,655 pats.
Do.	Concordia.....	2,850 "
Do.	Paso los Libres	490 "
Treasury bills discounted.....		48,000 "

A dealer in Mercedes, this province, states that the outstandings due him last year by farmers reached over two millions of dollars, but that now they have all paid up, and that not for the last twelve years has money been so plentiful in the camp as at present.

Messrs. Corti Riva and Co. have fitted out the Argentine war-steamer Espora for the Government at an outlay of 13,400 pats.; and Messrs. Stephens and Von Willer have repaired the Government steam-launch Helen at a cost of 12,800 pats. The Government has ordered the sum of 14,000 pats. to be paid to Captain Harrison for the second section of the port clearance contract.

The rain storm has caused more damage in the city than is generally supposed. The pavement in many of the streets is completely washed away. Many of the houses in the northern part were inundated, and the tramway of the Northern Railway was washed down in one part and temporarily stopped.

One of the most eminent English engineers, Mr. Hood, is expected to arrive from England per Garonne (French mail), now due and hourly expected. Mr. Hood has had many years of valuable experience with most of the Indian railways. Mr. Daniel Gowland, so well and favorably known in this market, is also on board the Garonne.

Messrs. Casares notify consignees per Tropic that her cargo is now landed at the Lanus deposits, where, within forty-eight hours, goods must be inspected.

On Wednesday the river made a clean breach over the sea-wall facing Paseo Julio. Boats were washed up on the Northern Railway. Experienced River Plate men, at the sight of the flood, discussed the port scheme and its feasibility. No portion of the mole was washed away, but a great many boats sunk.

SOUTH PLAZA.

March 18, 19, 20 and 21.

Rain, wind and mud, have prevented transactions.

No attendance at all.

We were pleased to examine a beautiful lot of Lincoln wool at Buenos Ayres Station, from Mr. Ninian Johnston's establishment. This splendid wool is consigned to Messrs. Peyredieu and Bradley. Particulars in opportunity. Samples at our office sent by our Special Reporter.

The Steam Engine Trials
OF THE
Royal Agricultural Society
OF ENGLAND.

OXFORD, 1870.

The FIRST PRIZES at this Show were again Awarded to Clayton and Shuttleworth, viz.:

First Prize for Horizontal Fixed Engine of 10 H.P.; First Prize for Steam Engine, with Boiler combined.

At the previous trials of Steam Engines, at Bury, 1867, Clayton and Shuttleworth took all the First Prizes for Engines, also a Prize of £15 for Thrashing Machines, and the Society's Silver Medal.

Clayton and Shuttleworth have received
First Prizes at all Trials of the Agricultural Society of England, at which they have competed since 1849.

N.B.—All the Principal Makers of Portable Engines, &c., compete for this Society's Prizes, being the only trials in Great Britain conducted by competent and impartial Engineers, and where the capability and value of each Engine is thoroughly tested by practical experiments. C. and S., therefore, do not compete at any other Shows.

SAVINGS BANK

BANK MAUA AND CO.

101--Calle Cangallo--103

BUENOS AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate, Montevideo and Buenos Ayres, that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working classes in that city a safe and profitable depository for their savings.

The sums deposited in that very important institution are daily increasing, and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of clerks artisans, working men, and servants of all classes and conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness, or old age, instead of spending them in immoral gambling, in lotteries, and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. of this city, following the noble example of their firm in Montevideo, now offer the same facilities in this city, and has opened a Savings Bank at No. 103 Calle Cangallo from Nine a.m. till Three p.m. every day, for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned, Sundays and holidays excepted.

The Bank will deliver to each depositors a pass book, in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited; in the former case the interes will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. is sufficiently known to the Public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations, which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles, and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighborhood.

Buenos Ayres, 2nd January, 1867.

P. P. MAUA & Co.,

M. A. DE FREITAS AMORIM

CONDITIONS.

First—The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty-five Dollars currency or one Silver Dollar upwards.

Second—The interest allowed is six per cent. (6 p. %) per annum, which is liquidated every six months.

Third—The depositors can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited.

Fourth—Once the money deposited exceeds Twenty-five thousand dollars currency, or one thousand dollars silver, the depositor, if he wish can open an account current, according to the rules established by the Bank.

Fifth—In case the depositor loses his pass book it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.

DYSENTERY, CHOLERA, FEVER, AGUE COUGHS, COLDS, &c.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S
(Ex Army Med. Staff)
CHLORODYNE
IS THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood stated that Dr. COLLIS BROWNE was undoubtedly the Inventor of CHLORODYNE but the story of the Defendant, Freeman, being the inventor was deliberately untrue, which he regretted had been sworn to. Eminent Hospital Physicians of London stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne, that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr. Browne's.—The Times, July 12, 1864.

The Public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE
REMEDIA, USES AND ACTION.

THIS INVALUABLE REMEDY produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates healthy action of the secretions of the body, without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it at all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while Medical men extol its virtues most extensively using it in great quantities in the following diseases:—

Diseases in which it is found eminently useful—Cholera, Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Colics, Coughs, Asthma, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Cough, Cramp, Hysteria, &c.

EXTRACTS FROM MEDICAL OPINIONS.

The Right Hon. Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians and J. T. Davenport that he had received information to the effect that the only remedy of any service in Cholera was Chlorodyne.—See Lancet Dec. 31, 1864.

From A. Montgomery, Esq., late Inspector of Hospitals, Bombay:—"Chlorodyne is a most valuable remedy in Neuralgia, Asthma and Dysentery. To it I fairly owe my restoration to health after 18 month's severe suffering, and when other remedies had failed."

Dr. Lowe, Medical Missionary in India, reports [Dec. 1865] that nearly every case of Cholera in which Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne was administered the patient recovered.

Extract from Medical Times, Jan. 12, 1866.—"Chlorodyne is prescribed by scores of orthodox medical practitioners. Of course it would not thus be singularly popular did it not 'supply a want and fill a place.'"

Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera.—"So strongare we convinced of the immense value of his remedy, that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all cases."

Beware of spurious and dangerous compounds sold as CHLORODYNE, from which frequent fatal results have followed.

See leading article, Pharmaceutical Journal, Aug. 1, 1869, which states that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the Inventor of Chlorodyne; that it is always right to use his preparation when Chlorodyne is ordered.

CAUTION.—None genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.
